The New Evangelization

MIGUEL DULICK

This season of the Church we call “Ordinary Time” is full of Jesus’ teaching about how to live our Christian lives. Today’s readings are especially rich. When Jesus takes his place as the New Moses to deliver his Sermon on the Mount, he begins, fittingly, with a new version of the commandments, but instead of “Thou shalt not,” they are blessings! And they are paradoxical; always a sign of the divine touch. The “poor in spirit” get the kingdom of heaven; mourners are blessed, for they shall be comforted.

Now, who is supposed to do the comforting? We are. If the beatitudes are new commandments, we disciples are to obey them, even rejoicing in the blessing of persecution. What kind of people sign up for this? Saint Paul describes to the Christians in Corinth what kind of people God chooses: the foolish, the weak, the lowly and despised, the nothings of this world, to shame and confuse those who seem to run things. The wisdom of God seems like nonsense in a world where power reigns supreme. That sweet soul Zephaniah, author of today’s first reading, saw the shift coming, from “don’ts” to “dos,” from bossy to beatitude: “Seek the Lord, all you humble of the land” (Zephaniah 2:3). You will be “a people humble and lowly” who will pasture your flocks (and do the work God intends you to do) with “none to disturb” you (Zephaniah 3:12, 13). Sign me up for that! ●

Reflect

How do Jesus’ teachings work in the “real world”?

Dear Padre,

I am struggling with our new pastor. He has been in our parish for less than six months, and nothing seems to please him. Everything has to change, and the parishioners have no input. I thought the days of “pray, pay, and obey” were over.

The Code of Canon Law identifies the pastor as the shepherd of the parish. His duties require him to teach, sanctify, and govern the people entrusted to his care. However, canon law also envisions that the pastor will engage in pastoral care “with the assistance of lay members of Christ’s faithful” (CCL 519).

The intention of the law is to encourage the building up of a community using the “knowledge, prudence, and integrity” of every member (CCL 228, §2). Many issues, feelings, and even theologies make up the personalities of a parish. The one constant that needs to be present is the presumption of goodwill. (See Catechism of the Catholic Church, 2478). If that is missing, then conflict, hard feelings, and many misunderstandings will result.

Without taking sides, I suggest that everyone take a deep breath. Then each of you—the pastor included—ask yourself, “Have I attempted to interpret this person or situation favorably? Have I made any rash judgments?” If honest and prayerful reflection reveals less-than-good intentions, now is the time for an attitude change and to acknowledge that a new start is needed. ●

World Marriage Day

On February 8th we celebrate World Marriage Day, we encourage you to honor the beauty and commitment of the vocation of marriage. If you are married, consider renewing your vows in a personal moment at home and take a moment to pray together. If you are not married, pray for and support married couples in their commitment to Christ together. The married vocation is a vocation just as the priesthood is, and each vocation is a person’s path to sanctification in this life which, God willing, will lead you to sainthood in the next.

Saints Joachim and Anne, pray for us!

Catholic Schools Week Vocation Adoration

February 9-13 is Catholic Schools Week; let’s remember to celebrate and pray for our St. Maurice students. You are invited to come on Tuesday, February 10th from 6-6:45 for a special time of adoration to pray for the intentions of the St. Maurice students, especially for their vocations. Prayer resources will be available for all ages. Pray for our students, that the Holy Spirit will enlighten them in choosing the vocation God has planned for them; maybe a beautiful life of service to the Church as a Priest, Deacon, religious Brother or Sister or to the wonderful life of sacramental marriage.
